RE: Press Release

Date: November 19, 2006

On November 19, 2006 at approximately 5 am, Webster Police Officer Michael Yurkevicious was on patrol by the Webster Manor Nursing home on School Street. It was at this time that he discovered a black car half in the driveway and half on the street. When Officer Yurkevicious approached the operator, Stephen Rohr (7/23/65 160 High Street, Webster), he discovered Rohr was naked. After further investigation, it was revealed Rohr had made an agreement with a woman for a sexual act. When it was discovered he did not have the money, she took his clothes and ran, leaving Rohr naked, and in a car with no gas, which is why he was parked the way he was when Officer Yurkevicious found him.

Rohr was arrested for engaging in a sexual act for a fee, and possession of a Class D substance, as a small amount of Marijuana was also found in his car during the inventory of it.

Police are attempting to ascertain the identity of the woman he made the agreement with so that she can also be charged.
